Getting Back to Basics

We'd make your mother proud. Despite all those ads, we know nothing cleans a room like elbow grease. Our approach combines the best products with the right techniques. We won't break out the washboard, but we know, when it comes to cleaning, mama taught us well.

Girl Friday cleaners have the right tools, the right training and a formal method for tackling large spaces in a timely and efficient manner.

From lime scale to rust stains, there are plenty of problems to confront commercial offices and residential homes. And carpets certainly take a beating whether it's the hounds of business or the patter of tiny feet.

Girl Friday can't make your black eyes blue, but we can go a long way to making your space shine.
